Participating as the Chief Guest in the College Day celebrations of Kasturba Gandhi Junior College for Women in Secunderabad today (08.12.2017), MD, HMRL Mr.NVS Reddy motivated the young girl students to be achievers in life. Explaining the difficulties and challenges that he faced while implementing the world's largest Metro Rail project in public private partnership (PPP) mode, he advised them to learn from the experience of extraordinary individuals who achieved otherwise impossible tasks and set their targets high. After setting their targets high, they shall pursue them with passion, dedication and exemplary hard work with smart strategies to realize their dreams, he told them.

Emphasizing on the importance of insatiable urge to learn new things, open minded approach and nurturing spirit of inquiry, he highlighted Indian education system has to shift its focus from memory based and exam oriented academic performance to enquiry oriented learning process, where students get passionately involved in pursuit of knowledge and acquire true command over the subjects that they are learning.

Pointing out the increasing disappearance of national boundaries and emergence of a highly competitive global era and the fast changing job market due to emergence of artificial intelligence, robotics, big data analytics etc., he advised the students to develop interest in new technologies, identify their capabilities and acquire new skill sets to remain competitive and relevant. Stating that most of the graduates and post-graduates lack even basic knowledge in their respective academic disciplines, he advised them to get a grip over the fundamentals of their learning subjects first. Highlighting an woeful inadequacy of communication skills and other required skill sets on the part of most of the job seekers, he advised the students and teachers to concentrate on development of communication skills and also on vocational courses for better job opportunities in various industries, businesses and government organizations.

Chairman, Kasturba Gandhi College Dr.N.V.N.Charyulu, Vice Chairman Mrs. Chandrakala, Secretary Mr.M.Hyder, Treasurer Mr. Ajay Kumar, Principal Mrs.Pratima Reddy and others participated in the College Day celebrations.
