Hyderabad

United States Consul General in Hyderabad, Jennifer Larson, commended the expansion plans of the Hyderabad Metro during her first ride on Wednesday.

Larson, accompanied by HMRL Managing Director NVS Reddy and other officials, experienced the city's metro system firsthand, interacting with passengers during her journey.

Thrilled over expansion

Expressing her enthusiasm for the Metro's extension plan, Larson highlighted its potential benefits for the Consulate General in Hyderabad and visa applicants. "Thrilled that the extension plan brings Hyderabad Metro closer to the Consulate General Hyderabad! This will help applicants immensely," she tweeted.

Impressed

During her visit to the Hyderabad Metro Rail Depot in Uppal, Larson observed the main depot-cum-workshop, which houses facilities for overhauling and corrective maintenance of the entire fleet. Impressed by the infrastructure, she lauded the city's commitment to sustainable transportation solutions.

"Taking the metro myself, I found out why this fast, sustainable mode of public transportation is the preferred mode of transport for the people of Hyderabad," Larson added in her tweet.
